

Donald Leo LeClair

September 26, 1939 - November 23, 2016

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

AL

“ Dad. It's been 2 months today. You gave me so much positive to work with today, I never realized how much we shared until you left. I love you. I celebrate your life here and ever after. Your loving daughter. April L.

April LaBelle - January 23, 2017 at 01:06 PM

MB

“ Michael Bonito lit a candle in memory of Donald Leo LeClair

Michael Bonito - December 02, 2016 at 12:23 PM

MB

“ Don was my friend. He will always be remembered as my joyous giving crony that always found humor in his life. No matter the situation he usually ended up clowning around and bringing a smile to those around him. Don was always there for others when he could be. Whether it was just to spend some time with the children that he loved so much, or to go that extra mile to help a friend in need, he was there. Though he didn't have much towards the end of his life in material things, he was rich with caring and sharing with others. Sharing food with those that were hungry, or gifting me with tools that he felt I could use, he always thought of others and helped where he could. Don loved his motorcycles and rode until he couldn't any longer. He wrote me a letter expressing how he hoped one day we could ride side by side down the highways and byways, but that was not to be. His riding days were past, but he rides with me now in my mind and heart. I know he is along for the rides I take. God bless you Don and side stands up!!

Michael Bonito - December 02, 2016 at 12:19 PM