For you mommie, Thank you for being my best friend, my confidant, and my advisor, but most of all the best mom. I am today who I, cause of you. Thank you for picking me up when I would fall. Thank you for your unconditional love. Thank you for leaving a piece of yourself in all my siblings, so that we are able to comfort each other, and remember together just how special you were and always will be for each and every one of us.....mommie you just forgot to instill one thing in me and that is ,how do I go on without you?.....I'm sure you can never find the comfort here, like you have in Our Lords Arms.....
