June 3, 1917 - August 10, 2015

Irma L. Schlotz, 98, of Fair Oaks, CA, died Aug 10, 2015 at Kaiser Hospital, Roseville, CA, with family nearby.

Irma was born in Sacramento, CA, June 3, 1917, to Simeon & Abbie Green - one of the founding families of Fair Oaks. She attended Fair Oaks Elementary and graduated from San Juan High School in 1935. She lived most of her life in Fair Oaks and was a charter member of Fair Oaks Presbyterian Church where she served in many capacities. Irma was happily married to George D. Schlotz for nearly fifty years and had three daughters. They were active participants in their community and church including Mariners' Group, Square Dance Club, Pinochle Club, and Trailer Club. They loved to entertain in their home and Irma often hosted Mah Jong groups. George and Irma loved to take their girls on trips including Santa Cruz and to the Green's cabin in South Lake Tahoe. Irma's grandchildren remember playing at the pool table, in the swimming pool, and in the play house - all three built by George at Irma's request. George and Irma would often take them camping at Bodega Bay. The great-grandchildren remember her always having Thrifty's ice cream in the freezer, playing games with her, and picking oranges every winter.

Irma was preceded in death by her husband, George, and her sister, Betty Lazier. She is survived by her daughters, Linda & Darryl Bramlette of Jamestown, Bonnie Roberts of Fair Oaks, and Jane & Dean West of Sacramento; five grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren, Tammie & Phil Erhard parents of Steven of Fairfield, Julie & Bob Daigle parents of Bobby of San Jose, David & Danette West parents of Lydia, Abigail, Calvin, Lincoln, Naomi, and Julia of Sacramento, Heather Keowmee mother of Joshua and Nathan of Fair Oaks, Sarah & Duane Howard parents of Leanne, Lisa, John David, and Joseph of Nashville, TN.

“ WHERE DID IT GO

By Irma Schlotz

Just yesterday we were expecting our first child. Then, there she was. A roly poly, blue eyed platinum blond. Such a slow, deliberate child! Why bother to creep and crawl?

At 11 months she just took a step, then another and off she went from daddy to mother—never faltering or falling. As she grew in to a kind, considerate little girl she seemed to sense what God’s creatures needed—fish, fowl or animal. But was that just yesterday? I see her today with her pets—still sensing their needs—with her patients in the convalescent home—also sensing their loneliness and needs. God gives each of us gifts although sometimes we do not recognize them.

But then it really couldn’t have been that three years have passed and who should arrive but an olive-complexioned little pixie with big round hazel eyes. Not the slow deliberate, quiet type but inquisitive, mischievous, “Let me do it myself”. A nature lover—trees, flowers, rocks. Always in to something different –cat tail pollen pancakes, rose petal candy, neighborhood rock show. And as she grew in to a young woman she crocheted, sewed, knitted, spun, had her greenhouse, (and always talked Dad in to helping her—build a spinning wheel or whatever). Talents galore, if we could but recognize them.

Then another short four years and here came our chubby, red haired, green-eyed number three daughter. Neither as slow as number one or as fast as number two. An average moving child – but fast and eager to learn more about everything. Not an animal or nature lover – a bookworm. She learned to walk at nine months, talked early and read before kindergarten. Always a quest for learning. If she had a book with instructions she could do it. Seemed to feel she had to be first in everything –music, dancing, schoolwork. An achiever. Different talents than her sisters but education was her goal. Talents if we could but recognize them.

I recognize my husband's talents and my daughters' talents but where are mine?

And God answered me and said, "You raised three beautiful daughters in a Christian home with Christian friends and activities. You took them to a Christian church, prayed with them and for them. You are still praying for them.

I consider that one of your talents.
