“ Hi Family...I just wanted to share something with you.....Rena. You have been gone now for one month and eight days. I loved you so much and miss you terribly... I had a dream night before last..You and I were in a mall somewhere you were much younger in the dream...We were by a big buffet with a huge salad bar...nearby was a counter filled with candles...you reached down and picked up a candle and then leaned down to a lighted candle and lite it...The candle was PINK none of the other candles had any color???strange..you held the candle up..Then I asked if you wanted to go get a salad...you said no you had to go you had things to do and walked away with the candle...The next morning when I woke up I remembered the dream and then it hit me that the candle was PINK....Was this a message of some kind I asked....So many little weird things keep happening and I know it's you letting us know that you are ok.

How I miss you
I loved you then
I love you still
I always have
I always will
Love Marilyn
