

Susan Carol Schwarting

March 18, 1945 - November 27, 2015

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

ES

“ Susan shared a lot of baking expertise through the Baking Circle. When she was divesting items from her San Francisco home, I was the beneficiary of several baking books which I purchased from her. Good memories. Elsa Seidel

Elsa Seidel - January 25, 2016 at 09:18 PM

JJ

“ I just would like the family to know what a great friend Susan was, although it was an 'internet' friendship. We were on the 'old' Baking Circle together, and if Susan's daughter reads this, the Apricot Button recipe (which Susan made for you, and I believe became one of your most favorite cookies ever) came from my wonderful college roommate who later married my brother and has been a sister for 50+ years.

I want you to know how much I have missed Susan. But I just got the chills as I wrote that, so I know Susan was with me as I wrote that and was acknowledging my thoughts and prayers.

I send many prayers for the family of Susan.

Joanne Johnson ... or jej, as that cookie recipe would likely acknowledge.

Joanne Johnson - January 25, 2016 at 12:50 PM

JO

“ If this is Susan who previously lived in San Francisco then there are many friends who knew Susan through the Baking Circle of King Arthur Flour. Susan assisted many of us with our baking questions and we thought of her as a friend.
A great lady !!
Jozy

JoAnn - January 24, 2016 at 08:12 PM

NB

I'm saddened to hear of Susan's passing. I never had the honor of meeting in person but knew her through the Baking Circle. As we became aware of the troubling illness of another of our members, she started the ball rolling in the making of a quilt for this beleaguered lady. She supplied all the right ingredients for us to make this a project spread across several states and our Canadian friend and her sister were blessed with a beautiful quilt. My memories of Susan will always include her devotion to her city, her baking and quilting and her friendships throughout San Francisco and the baking community. She was one smart lady and she will be missed.

Nina Beyt - January 25, 2016 at 10:35 AM

LC

I also got to know Susan through the Baking Circle. I just learned of her passing a couple of days ago from a Friend who introduced us. She was a hard working lady. She was very generous. She helped me through many baking problems and questions. When I told her my mom had cancer, she sent me a lap quilt to give her. I had sent her some glass baking pans and in return she sent me a beautiful quilt; which still sits on the back of my couch to this day. She was a very special lady and will be missed.

Lisa Flack
Union City, CA

Lisa Flack, Union City, CA - February 17, 2016 at 04:54 PM